

I don't mind being home now. Dinner time was the worst. We have gone from 8 telemarkets a night. To a occasional 1 a week for a survey. I believe that if I do not want to be solicited in my private home I shouldn't be. There is no way of stopping it either. It just build like my E-Mail account now I receive 100 junk E-Mails a day. I didn't ask for this. If I want to purchase something or be sold something I will go to the store, on-line, or watch a commercial.

A Fellow American,
Douglas